

Streamline your recruitment:

Wise Help specializes in providing human resources support (recruitment) to firms looking for Marketing and Digital Communications Specialists for both short-term projects with freelancers and long-term projects with payroll employees. Both big and small companies require a smooth and successful recruitment and selection process to find and hire the best people and Wise Help is here to ensure that this process is achieved for all our clients. The purpose of an organization's recruiting and selection process is to locate and hire the best people to fill open jobs and our approach focuses on identifying applicants with the right mindset and skills to help the company meet its goals.

Wise Help collaborates with several professional as well as companies across Europe. This ensure a wide network of professionals the company interacts with and keeps in touch for daily business operations. Wise Help develops this network and internal talent pool through:

- Online networking events where freelancers who are also professionals in different areas of Digital Marketing and Communications meet and exchange ideas in order to create connections with one another.

Thus, Wise Help specializing in Digital Marketing and communication, is able to reach a larger audience in order to advertise and inform the masses about different companies, brands, products or services as well as their open vacancies to the professionals or targeted employees.

- In addition, Wise Help utilizes posting jobs on relevant sites such as our Instagram, Facebook and LinkedIn and manages all candidates through a single interface, that streamlines the entire recruitment process and assists you in finding better talent.
- Finally, but not least, Wise Help employs Brand Ambassadors to recruit direct graduates from Business Schools across different countries in Europe.

